millier aldrun has spent his life being cassandra the prophet nobody believes born knowing when a dangerous armed presence is nearby millier has always been dismissed and had to see the people he cares about hurt grieving the death of a closeted lover he finds solace cruising the waterways of spinner s drift making sure the people in the outlying islands feel safe when millier discovers the weekly gathering at the magic of books its members become the family he didn t know he could have that includes piers constantine who s hiding on the islands with his cousin to elude her stalker golden kind and humble piers finds millier fascinating but piers is destined to leave the island and even if he s the only person who ever had faith in millier millier can t bear the thought of losing someone else he loves then millier wakes up with that familiar warning in his gut the long ago evil that has been stalking piers and his cousin is catching up millier s gift might be the only way to protect them but he ll have to let piers in together they plunge into one of the island s oldest mysteries for once being cassandra is on millier s side piers and millier conceive a desperate plan to set them free from fear but if millier fails he knows nothing will be left of him but the salt bitter sea

it is now over 50 years since the term gentrification was first coined by the british urbanist ruth glass in 1964 in which time gentrification studies has become a subject in its own right this handbook the first ever in gentrification studies is a critical and authoritative assessment of the field although the handbook does not seek to rehearse the classic literature on gentrification from the 1970s to the 1990s in detail it is referred to in the new assessments of the field gathered in this volume the original chapters offer an important dialogue between existing theory and new conceptualisations of gentrification for new times and new places in many cases offering novel empirical evidence
