the success of an offering is defined by the company's ability to design, communicate and deliver market value. The particular way in which an offering creates value is determined by the company's business model and its two building blocks: strategy and tactics. The key aspects of developing an offering's strategy, designing its tactics and crafting a market value map are the focus of this note. The discussion of marketing strategy and tactics is complemented by an in-depth overview of two additional topics: the 3 C 4 P and 5 Forces frameworks and the key aspects of analyzing the market context. This note is an excerpt from Chapter 2 of Strategic Marketing Management: Theory and Practice by Alexander Chernev, Cerebellum Press, 2019.

Contract Negotiations: Skills, Tools and Best Practices discusses today's dynamic performance-based business environment in both the public and private business sectors. Contract negotiations covers the important aspects of contract negotiation planning, conducting contract negotiations, documenting contract negotiations and contract formation. You'll find an engaging discussion of the competencies and skills that must be mastered to become a world-class contract negotiator. The book features a proven, effective contract negotiation process supplemented with numerous tools, forms, templates, case studies and best practices.

This book highlights the effects of an increasing use of information technology in manufacturing. The main focus is on the changes in organisation, working procedures and the demands on the capabilities of the personnel both on the shop floor and the engineering and management levels. It disseminates information from the research and development carried out under Esprit's integration in manufacturing domain as well as from other activities in similar domains in industry and academia. A particular focus is on giving an overview and resume of work undertaken in the third and fourth research framework programmes of Esprit.
