bachelor thesis from the year 2022 in the subject law tax fiscal law grade 2 0 rhine waal university of applied sciences language english abstract tax planning is a practice used by many corporations in order to minimise their tax paid while being able to maximise their profits one common way to undertake such conduct is by increasing the negative components of the tax base computation for example the interest expense deductibility this practice is deemed harmful by many lawmakers as it will imperil its tax legislation hence to tackle this behaviour the european union has adopted an anti tax avoidance directive in 2016 where the rules on interest expense as a tax planning tool are addressed in article 4 the directive is to be transposed into the member states tax laws nevertheless there are some concerns on the comparability between the national rules implementing this directive and the existing fundamental freedoms that are the cornerstone of the european union this thesis examines the possible infringements of the directive s transposition to the fundamental freedoms enshrined in the treaty of the functioning of the european union some recommendations with regard to ameliorating the identified incompatibilities are also given by using comparative legal research case study from the year 2022 in the subject business economics business management corporate governance language english abstract multinational corporations mncs are able to review the world s tax legislation and take advantage of the loopholes and anomalies in the tax legislation of the various nations thus avoiding the payment of billions of dollars in taxes based on the case of ikea group both tax evasion and tax avoidance are unethical when elements such as social inequality undermining of tax compliance unfairness in competition between different firms violation of social contracts between corporations and host communities and erosion of tax revenues for society are present ikea s practices are unethical from a consequentialist ethical standpoint due to the negative effects of their practices on society as well as from a deontological standpoint due to their failure to respect not only the letter and spirit of the law but also the rights of communities competitors nations individual taxpayers and other stakeholders tax evasion and avoidance significantly contribute to the undermining of the compliance culture as they undermine the tax system s integrity thus leading to weaker compliance the evaluation of the actions and measures that hmrc apply for tax compliance in light of the ethical issues of tax avoidance and evasion indicates that the approaches would lead to great successes in the reduction of tax avoidance and evasion
