celtic fairy tales selected and edited by joseph jacobs 26 classic celtic fairy tales last year in giving the young ones a volume of english fairy tales my difficulty was one of collection this time in offering them specimens of the rich folk fancy of the celts of these islands my trouble has rather been one of selection ireland began to collect her folk tales almost as early as any country in europe and croker has found a whole school of successors in carleton griffin kennedy curtin and douglas hyde scotland had the great name of campbell and has still efficient followers in macdougall macinnes carmichael macleod and campbell of tiree gallant little wales has no name to rank alongside these in this department the cymru have shown less vigour than the gaedhel perhaps the eisteddfod by offering prizes for the collection of welsh folk tales may remove this inferiority meanwhile wales must be content to be somewhat scantily represented among the fairy tales of the celts while the extinct cornish tongue has only contributed one tale in making my selection i have chiefly tried to make the stories characteristic it would have been easy especially from kennedy to have made up a volume entirely filled with grimm s goblins à la celtique but one can have too much even of that very good thing and i have therefore avoided as far as possible the more familiar formulae of folk tale literature to do this i had to withdraw from the english speaking pale both in scotland and ireland and i laid down the rule to include only tales that have been taken down from celtic peasants ignorant of english
