for the first time in one place roger m sobin has compiled a list of nominees and award winners of virtually every mystery award ever presented he has also included many of the best of lists by more than fifty of the most important contributors to the genre mr sobin spent more than two decades gathering the data and lists in this volume much of that time he used to recheck the accuracy of the material he had collected several of the best of lists appear here for the first time in book form several others have been unavailable for a number of years of special note are anthony boucher s best picks for the year boucher one of the major mystery reviewers of all time reviewed for the san francisco chronicle ellery queen mystery magazine and the new york times from these resources mr sobin created boucher s best and important lists to consider lists that provide insight into important writing in the field from 1942 through boucher s death in 1968 this is a great resource for all mystery readers and collectors winner of the 2008 macavity awards for best mystery nonfiction

so you think you d know a murderer if you saw one prepare yourself for a challenge this book spans the century to provide a police lineup of some of the most devious death dealers in all of crime fiction some leave an incriminating trail of bloody footprints others are unrecognizable but for the hardware in their hands and the dark intent in their hearts in graham greene s thrillers and the 1930s brian diemert examines the first and most prolific phase of graham greene s career demonstrating the close relationship between greene s fiction and the political economic social and literary contexts of the period situating greene alongside other young writers who responded to the worsening political climate of the 1930s by promoting social and political reform diemert argues that greene believed literature could not be divorced from its social and political milieu and saw popular forms of writing as the best way to inform a wide audience diemert traces greene s adaptation of nineteenth century romance thrillers and classical detective stories into modern political thrillers as a means of presenting serious concerns in an engaging fashion he argues that greene s popular thrillers were in part a reaction to the high modernism of writers such as james joyce gertrude stein and virginia woolf whose esoteric experiments with language were disengaged from immediate social concerns and inaccessible to a large segment of the reading public history taught at the elementary middle high school and even college levels often excludes significant events from african american history such as the murder of emmett till or the murder of four black girls by the ku klux klan in the sixteenth street baptist church bombing in birmingham such events are integral parts of history that continue to inform america s racial politics their exclusion is a problem that this work addresses by bringing more visibility to documentary films focusing on the events books treating the history of documentary films follow a similar pattern omitting the efforts of filmmakers who have continued to focus on african american history this book works to make documentary discourse more complete bringing attention to films that cover the african american experience in four areas civil rights sports electronic media and the contemporary black struggle demonstrating how the issues continue to inform america s racial politics
